Now more than ever.
"Those who have had a chance for four years and could not produce peace should not be given another chance."

I find shelter in your smile--- from the tension of chalk and pen . . .
a refuge of warmth in the midst of cold shoulders and frozen frowns . . .
a welcome escape beyond the frigidity of school-room pride.
Love shared is loneliness denied. TOGETHER - - - we can make it. Even when we are apart I am not without you - - - i am inside you, locked away forever.
Alone — I am blind to my own identity. I must be taught—to explore

to discover
to create
to mold

da dream into a reality . . .
But I need the hands of experience to guide my groggy vision and interpret my sluggish contemplation.
Wandering amid a stream of silent thought, lost in a pocket of seclusion—-

a private game of hide and seek with time...
Though I sometimes walk alone, I have no fear. For my dreams do not desert me. They comfort my carelessness and sustain my pride. For even in my aloneness, I am strong. On my own beliefs I depend. I would rather believe in myself than be swallowed in the conformed admiration of the insecure multitudes. My embittered spirit longs to return to its sheltered ledge. Watching the folly of other human souls, I'm somehow superior in my very seclusion. It's easy to laugh at other's mistakes and ridicule their childish trust, but sometimes it becomes lonely. To be different is to know the complete segregation of a single soul but also the extension of its freedom.
Dependency is something you never outgrow . . .
you thought you did
when you took your first step,
or stopped
sucking your thumb,
or put your favorite blanket
up in the attic, (stashed away with your first teddy bear--- among the moth balls) . . .
but someone
was always there when you needed them - - -
and even when you didn't.
It catches you unaware —— it comes in split-second spurts . . .
a hand to cling to,
a word to inspire ——
whether you believe
or not . . . .
Day-to-day faces in a timeless situation—building upon each other to form a tangled network of combined ideas and mass confusion.

Each a part of a whole, like so many pieces in a jig-saw puzzle, or rows of tin soldiers. Yet, if a piece is missing, the puzzle will never be complete, and if one soldier turns to run, the others may follow.
Still, we seek a voice we cannot hear,
a face we cannot see,
to protect us
from our immortal
insecurity
-to comfort us
in the face
of our defeat.
ESCAPE—
the magic word
that inspires the search for a way out,
a way to forget . . . .
A search for warmth,
ending in artificial fulfillment—
A morning coffee break
to drown out voices
of nagging students
and visions of apathetic faces . . . .
a quick cigarette
behind the stadium
to blow off steam
and release tensions . . . .
a couple of bottles
of beer to shake off inhibitions . . . .
an ultimate "trip" - - -
out of sight
out of mind
out of touch
with reality . . . .
but "hooked" on insecurity.

Board of Education

Controversy divides . . .
SPLIT . . . right down the middle!
A student council president observes the pitfalls of an active administration.
The issues --- student rights, a new Shore, teacher evaluations, the Euclid-St. Joe game.
Debate — DECISION — Debate --- important consequences follow in Euclid student life.

84/Administration
Counselors

Steering and guiding a sounding board for problems swamped in ceaseless surges of complaints. Striving to dissolve foreboding impressions and confused communications.
Wafts of exit passes and approved permits, stern inquiries of "Where were you 2nd period?" Raised eyebrows and doubtful countenances, smiles and frowns—barometers of royal displeasure.
Business

Book balancing, timed typings . . . a business-like atmosphere of pressures and tensions -- speedy shorthand, business basics, organized accuracy in a technical society.
Art

Ticking minds running creative hands --- checker-board patterns, smeared chalk sketches, abstract moods and images --- people with pink faces on a purple background in orange and yellow places . . . projections of an artistic spirit capture and create a colorful world.
Foreign Languages

Discovery . . .
of people!
An appreciation
of another's culture.
Communication = language.
Ingredients:
enthusiasm + practice . . .
weeks in the language lab . . .
improvement . . .
mastery!
. . . relating to humanity
by exploring society
by comparing ideas
by understanding . . .
a word, a sentence,
a sound . . .
a way of life.
English

An exercise in expression, insight and sensitivity . . . plot your own direction, step by step . . . phase one -- -- interpersonal communication phase two -- -- the supernatural phase three -- -- speed reading phase four -- -- debate . . . an exposure to greatness -- -- from ancient masters, to modern (Mesphisto Waltz!) Research . . . stimulation . . . concentration . . . . . an appreciation of life.
Even the women behind the "Lib" must know the basics of survival . . . raising a family, balancing a budget, planning a meal, necessary skills of a woman of the future . . . or -- a man of the future? Would-be chefs join the girls in sauteing onions and setting tables . . . maybe they'll be sewing their own clothes . . . boys liberation?!

Industrial Arts

Expressions and creations... in metal, ceramics, and wood.
Reality... practicality... pounding vibrations and greasy clothes.
Inexperienced inky fingers learn the basics of printing... or the technical temperament of an engine.
Math

Math tests drain the brain . . . simple, complex, formulas . . . math "problems" -- what ever happened to multiple choice?! Theories, postulates . . . find a reason behind the improbable -- "If 2 boats travel x miles in opposite directions, boat a at y miles per hour and boat b at z miles per hour, what's the name of boat a?"

Student Council

Out of third period and down the hall—
a room, noisy
with debated decisions . . .
hows-and-whys of
administrative hassles—
Homecoming, open study halls and lunch periods . . . a smoking lounge?
Organizing the freedom of student rights.

Euclidian
Business Staff

The $$$ holders —
over-powering their unsuspecting victims
on a never-ending
crusade to sell.
“Buy a yearbook
if you’re a senior . . .
if you’re not,
buy one anyway” . . .
Visiting stores
over summer vacation
to sell ads —
(look in the back
of this book if you don’t believe it!)

a. Toni Kulbickas, Nancy Powell, Lauri Strauss, Nancy Baum, Marlene Schwenner. b. Pauline Hoover. c. Debbie Tavenier, Ellen Schanz, Diane Dvornak, Terri Wardener, Betinna DeCapita, Janet Glazer. d. Diana Karol. e. Lloyd Hemmert, Dave Saywell, Nat Dickenson.
Euclidian Editorial Staff

One frustration after another . . .
the idea that didn't work out,
the picture that didn't get taken,
the copy that kept disappearing, the posters that wouldn't stay on the wall,
the work parties that no one showed up for,
a deadline that came and went—-
a book of hopes,
born in spite of itself . . .
a book of dependency—-
a captured memory,
not to be forgotten
by those who created it and shared the dreams
and the disappointments of the 1973 EUCLIDIAN.
The Euclidian Editorial staff wishes to thank the men of the Euclid Fire Station No. 1 for their cooperation, friendliness, patience and fire trucks. It provided a great setting for our staff pictures.

remembering scenes that beckon tears and smiles
for souvenirs:

the Hiram happening, a crippled-camera crisis,
the pickles and potato chips shared 5th period,
a yellow calendar with assignments . . . . . THREATS(!), a Beatles vs. Bowie battle (full volume), the ghosts of deadlines
past,

present,

and future,

the ruined rolls-rescheduling syndrome,

and popcorn and paper chains on the tinsel tree.

remembering "actors" that gave outstanding performances:

the schedulers who realized the potency of the word "mandatory" (a staff afflicted with dedication)

the photogs who sacrificed SO MUCH time, contributed talent, and displayed "occasional concern" for the assistant editor(!)

and the Editors who are U-nique U-clidian.

"merci,"

Dependency was a lot more than just a theme to this yearbook staff. We of the editorial staff were all dependent on Mr. Dickinson and the business staff for selling ads and I thank them for their efforts which made our book possible.

I believe the staff depended on me for a little bit of organization, but not half as much as I counted on them to get the job done. All of the editors have learned this year how dependency brings us closer together. Though many times we had mix-ups or misunderstandings, friendships have grown out of them. So what can I say to my editors except thanks so much for your dedication and friendship.

Also, I must thank Mr. Bert Coburn of Inter-Collegiate Press for his guidance in seeing that we met our deadlines, and all the fine gentlemen of Raimer Studios for their advice to our photographers, their understanding, and hard work. And of course, we depended on our advisor, Mr. Robert Hall, for his signature and concerned encouragement.

Last, but by no means least, we depended on the entire student body and faculty of Euclid High School for providing the subject of our book. So here you have the 1973 EUCLIDIAN. If it brings back as many good or bad memories to you as it has to me, it has served its purpose well.

Sincerely,
Pat Lawrence
